I AM...

I may be blue, and you may be red; together we could make an original shade of purple. This purple could then be added into a painting. Our shade may not be the focus of the master piece, but together we make up one part to a greater whole. Each student has their own unique set of qualities. Yet, when we all come together we make something bigger; we make the picture of Sharon High School. The same can be said when discussing colors. Individually they have their own unique hues, but when brought together something beautiful can be made. So check it out. Below are a few students who exemplify one color that makes up part of the masterpiece that is our school.

Left: Rachel Rosenblatt, a Senior, has been volunteering at The Abundant Table in Norwood for four years. She describes her personal color as Yellow: "I feel like yellow is a bright and happy color, and when you work at a soup kitchen you're spreading that happiness to others and brightening their day."

I AM

Above: Angela Zhang, a Sophomore, describes her personal color as purple: "Culture has a huge role in my life, and my family heritage traces back to China, while I grew up in America since age five. Red is a symbolizing color in Chinese culture, and Blue is a very patriotic color in America, so red plus blue equals purple."

Above: Samantha Kim, a Senior, has been class of 2012 president for the past three years. She describes her personal color as purple. " Purple is the mix of the coolest color, blue, and the warmest color, red, making it the happy medium which is how I would describe my own personality, the happy medium. Also purple has historically been the color of purpose and good judgment."

Articles and Spread By: Alex Stoller & Caitlin Murchie

Right: Tess Berkowitz, a Junior, describes her personal color as red: "Red is bright, fiery, and immediately calls your attention! I feel that it represents how I take action without hesitation, and how I try to make an impact wherever I go".

Right: Sophomore, Peter Riley, describes his personal color as green: "When I think of green, I think of nature. I love being outdoors, immersing myself in natural beauty. I then think of animals,which have always interested me."

I AM...

Right: Senior, Ethan Thibault, describes his own personal color as blue: "Blue is the color of serenity, sincerity, and rumination; whether you are staring at the sea or some one's eyes, the color blue calms you down and clears your head."

Left: Ori Laby, a junior, describes his own personal color as yellow: "My personal color is yellow because it is a subtle one, yet it has a classy presence in many other colors."

Articles and Spread By: Caitlin Murchie & Alex Stoller

Left: Freshman, Stefanie Stoller, describes her own personal color as Orange: "Orange is a daring and vibrant color. It's warm tones exemplify my personality, as I love to be outgoing and make new friends."

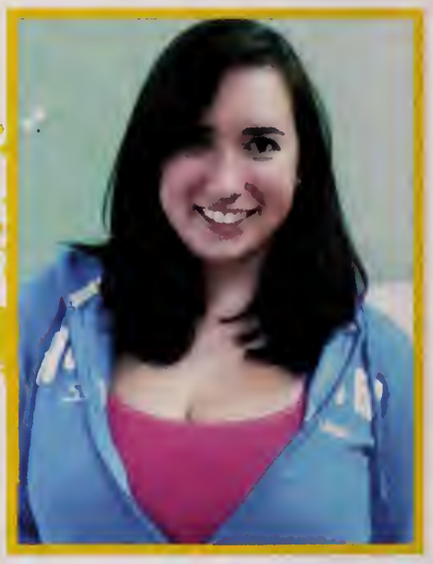
WE ARE...

Just as colors are brought together to create beautiful things, the students are brought together as Sharon High School. Every student adds his or her own color to the student body. These students describe how they make their own colorful contributions.

Introduction written and designed by Editors Alex Stoller and Caitlin Murchie.

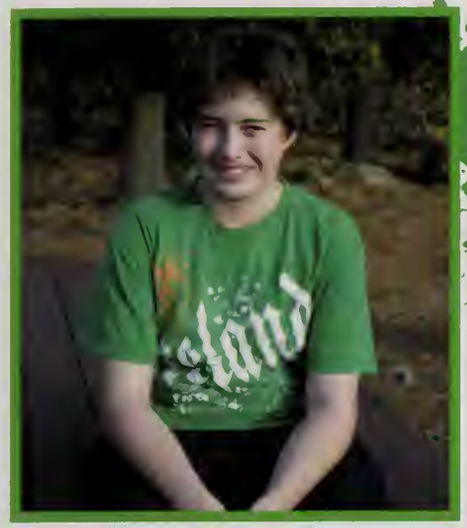
Below: Tess Berkowitz believes that she adds her fiery red to the halls of Sharon High School not only through her personality, but through her community service project Pie in the Sky. She splashes some red into the group by taking action against suffering from poverty and illness in Boston, and being passionate about the good she is doing for those less fortunate.

Top Right: Rachel Rosenblatt says she adds her color, yellow, to Sharon High School because she gives students the opportunity to join her, and other volunteers at the Abundant Table.



Bottom Right: Angela Zhang believes her color could be spread through the school by encouraging students to be more patriotic, yet still stay close to their own heritage.

Articles and Spread By: Alex Stoller & Caitlin Murchie

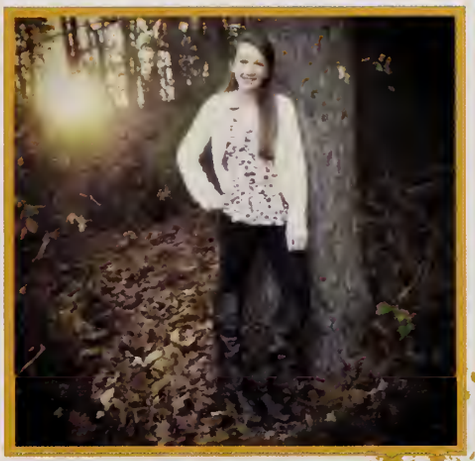


Top Left: Peter Riley believes his color could be spread through SHS by showing the importance of nature and the greatness that it holds.

Top Right: Ethan Thibault believes that he brings a blue hue to SHS by encouraging students to relax once in a while, to simply stay calm and to embrace the small things.

Above: Samantha Kim Says her color is added to to Sharon High School through her organizational skills and good judgment when important decisions need to be ma

Below: Ori Laby believes that he brings yellow to Sharon High School by constantly making new friends and lending a hand to those in need.



Above: Stefanie Stoller believes her color could be spread throughout SHS by encouraging students to branch out and to be themselves.

We all contribute one personal color to Sharon High School. What's yours?

SHARON HIGH SCHOOL

In Loving Memory of Stephen Mercuri

The class of 2012 honors the memory of fellow classmate, Stephen Mercuri.

Not a day passes where we do not think of our classmate and friend, Stephen Mercuri. Whether our personal memories are triggered by Coldplay's "Yellow" or childhood photos, Stephen will always be in our hearts and in our prayers. This yearbook is dedicated in memory of Stephen. As a school, we will continue remembering, loving, and never forgetting all that Stephen meant to us. This year, his own Class of 2012 assembled and distributed star covered ribbons to all Sharon High School students and staff. Now, personal memories are likewise triggered by the ribbons that sprinkle the backpacks of SHS students. In love and memory, Stephen Mercury will always be missed.

To the left, seniors Samatha Kim, Cori Plesko, and Laura Schachter assemble the ribbons in Stephen's honor. Later on in the week, Samantha Kim and the 2012 planning board gives out the ribbons to all SHS students and staff.

I was simply blown away.
How could that be possible?
We were laughing yesterday."

We're taking over...

To the left: Rachel Yahalom and Amanda Falcón did not let a snow storm ruin their Halloween spirit.

Below is a group of seniors at the homecoming pep rally showing their school spirit by wearing their senior shirts!!

To the left is Jen Shone, who has dressed up as the high school's mascot for multiple years, standing with her new eagle costume, a gift from the class of 2012.

What is your most memorable moment from SHS?

All of the class of 2012's most memorable moments have yet to occur. Even though Tuesday, September you were in the library during a witness film play Lovelace Winchester after school, or stood on the lunch tables, you certainly will not forget Justin Telesky.

"The colors purple, red, and green represent the different facets of my personality. I am different, never to put myself in a box. Therefore, I am a rainbow of colors!"

Ms. Malcolm

"The color blue reminds me of the ocean. Just as the ocean is ever changing, I am an ever evolving individual. Similarly, one can always depend on the ocean being there. I am always there for my friends and family no matter what."

Ms. Schneiderman

"The color red is warm and forceful. It symbolizes my energetic and loud nature. However, the hue makes you stop and think. Within the classroom, I try my best to mimic this in my own teaching styles."

Ms. Fanborn

"The color purple is not only my favorite color, but it also represents me well as it is different, kinky, and fun, while being sophisticated at the same time."

Ms. Schreiber

"I chose the color green because it is the color of plant chlorophyll, which some say is more like "bore-ophyll" but I say is more like 'wonder-phyll.'"

Days In History!

From the Seniors receiving their senior shirts, to the Class of 2012 giving their class gift of a new Eagle Mascot suit, which Mr. Libano wore for the first time, Homecoming was a huge success this year! The Pep Rally before the big Homecoming carnival and game revved up all the teams, especially the football team, which went on to win their game against the Canton Bulldogs. Seniors Michael Schanz and Jessica Oknin led the rally, and there was a special dance performed by the Chinese Exchange Students. At the carnival the next day, clubs and teams lined around the outside near the gym, bands from Euphony graced us with their talented music, and school spirit ran through the stands as students' faces were painted and donations were collected for special causes. Let's just say players and fans were ready for the big game. The Sharon Eagles welcomed the Canton Bulldogs onto their turf with the determination to finish with a win, and they did just that. The final score? Sharon 28, Canton 13. Success.

Q & A

How did you feel winning the Homecoming game vs. the Canton Bulldogs?

"It was a huge step for Sharon Football, first hock game we've won in a long time and first Homecoming game too, it definitely helped us see that we have what it takes to play in this league. It was a great day."

-David Dones, Senior Captain

Sharon High's annual Halloween festivities were put on hold as a town wide power outage forced the school to close, pushing the celebrations back a few days. Halloween spirit still ran strong as many students dressed up and proudly flaunted their creative costumes. Athenian gods, glorified Soviets, and Disney princesses were among countless ensembles that livened up the hallways and classrooms. The fun ended with a pep rally that featured the winning costumes from all four grades. Winners included Best Inanimate Object: Mara Cosman as the taxi, Most Artistic: Greek Gods, Best Trio: Alvin and the Chipmunks, Best Impersonation: Disney Princesses, Funniest: Jordan Tewtewtskies, Scariest: Alex Nguyen as the Zombie, Most Original: The poop hits the fan, Best Group: Generations. A little snow storm and a power outage is no match for Sharon High's Halloween spirit.

Q & A

What was your favorite part of Halloween at Sharon High?

"I particularly enjoyed the costume contest. It was fun to see a lot of students dress up and contribute to the school spirit."

Jason Kim

Mr. Libano poses with the headmaster of Boston Latin, Lynne Teta while they show off their new plaques.

Secretary of Education Arne Duncan presents the awards and also gives a speech on the importance of education in America..

The Blue Ribbon Award is a great honor that was only given to only two schools in Massachusetts, Sharon High School and Boston Latin Academy. The award is given based on student focus and support, school organization and culture, challenging standards and curriculum, active teaching and learning, technology integration, professional community,leadership and educational vitality, and school, family, and community partnerships. Sharon High can now call itself among the 5% of schools in the country that have ever received this distinction.

Mr. Libano and Mr. Sodbinow (better known as Mr. Manny), flew to Washington D.C. and spent a few days at workshops sharing what Sharon High School does to be so successful with other schools in the country. They accepted the award on behalf of our school from the Secretary of Education Arne Duncan.

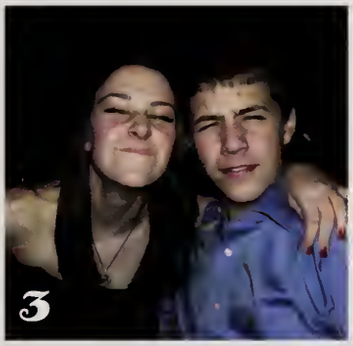
Q & A

Who do you think would be the nest person to attend the conference and represent the teachers at the Blue Ribbon ceremony?

"There is no other teacher who could be a better representation of Sharon High School than Mr. Manny. He is an excellent teacher, dedicated to the school and his students and represents our school in Quiz Show and Math Team."

Ms. Schreiber

Multiple Multiples



Ever wonder what it's like being a twin or triplet? Do they think the same way? Do they like the same things? Sharon High has quite a few sets of multiples, and although they share many similarities, they are all unique as individuals as well. It may be hard to tell them apart at times, but beneath the surface of their appearances, it may be amazing just how different they can be! From the music they listen to, movies they watch, and even the hobbies they enjoy, multiples are definitely not always in agreement. While some may look similar on the outside, they are truly their own unique color on the inside.

We have all become the greatest of friends just from 3 months of hard work and weekly rehearsals, and I always make sure to thank them for making this friendly competition as successful as it was."
-Lyle Swartz, Mr. SHS 2011

"I loved that the boys got so close. It was a group that wouldn't normally hang out, but because we spent so much time together, we all became really good friends." -Erica Pais, Class of 2013 President

More than just a Contest!

Tyler Drisko (Sophomore) juggles with three balls, four balls, and then bowling pins.

Ned Bisshopp (Junior) performs a thrilling Karate routine and concludes with breaking three cement bricks in half with his foot.

Mr. SHS was a huge success this year. Not only was it a competition, but it was a bonding experience for both Contestants and Planning Board Members. Contestants were asked to perform various tasks including going on a scavenger hunt, performing a talent, exercising with Ms. Gassman, finding their way through the wilderness, dancing multiple dances, answering a question, and impressing not only the judges but the audience as well. This year, the audience had the privilege to help choose the next Mr. SHS by casting their votes through texting the name of their favorite contestant to a number. Winner, Lyle Swartz (Junior) was asked during the competition what he would do with the money if he won. His answer was he would "eat the money so that there would always be a part of Mr. SHS with [him]". But after winning, he initially "was planning to follow through with eating the money", but decided that "putting the money towards holiday gifts for friends and family would be more appropriate than consuming plastic". After talking with several of the Contestants and Planning Board Members, it is safe to say that a new family has been created out of a simple competition.

Q & A

What was your favorite part about being a Contestant in Mr. SHS and why?

"Meeting all the other kids and being able to embarrass myself for the pure love of entertainment."
-Zack Ruboy, Senior

"Rehearsals because all of the contestants got to goof off and just have fun."
-Ross Gemba, Senior

CHINESE EXCHANGE PROGRAM FALL 2011

Traveling half way around the world, on October 1, 2011, ten students and teacher Guli from Xi'an, China, finally landed in Boston, Massachusetts for an eight week stay. Greeted by their host families here in Sharon, these students could not have been more surprised at the differences. Xi'an, is a city with lots of factories and seeing all of these tress and clean air in Sharon was so unreal to them. The classrooms at Sharon High were also very different, for each classroom ranged on an average of 23-25 students. In Xian, each classroom had about 60 students. During their stay in Sharon, MA, they have participated in different Chinese classes in the high school, middle school, and elementary schools , in which they have talked about cultural differences. Also, they have taught Chinese sports to kids in PE. Along with their host families, they have toured many places in the United States. Bringing with them another world of knowledge, these Chinese exchange students have truly made a difference in the lives at Sharon High.

Ecuador World Challenge

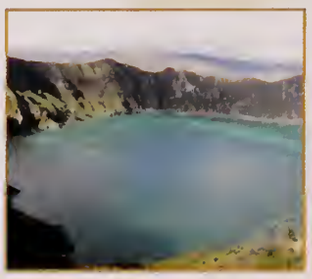
During their trip, the students and teachers spent 4 days hiking the Quilotoa loop.

The group of students and teachers prepare for white water rafting.

This past summer, a group of 19 Sharon High School Students and 2 teachers, Ms. Crosby and Ms. Walker, traveled to Ecuador for 3 weeks. They not only raised all the money to go, they also planned the entire intinerary themselves. They flew into Quito, the capital, and spent a few days there visiting the markets and the Andean countryside acclimatizing. They then embarked on our 4 day trek, the Quilotoa loop, during which they climbed up a ravine, hiked around the Quilotoa mineral lake in a single day, and visited a cloud forest and a local cheese factory. The next phase was in the Amazon rain forest; they stayed in cabanas and took daily hikes, learning about the local flora and fauna.They then traveled to San Vicente, a small town of not more than 200 Amazonian natives. They stayed with them for 6 days, learning how to speak with them and helping lay a new set of pipes to bring them fresh water. They ended the trip in Quito. By the time they left we had gone horseback riding in the Andes, summited the Ruminhaui volcano, eaten lemon ants and roasted guinea pig, visited an Amazonian shaman (ancient priest), gone white-water rafting, and gotten to know a wonderful group of Ecuadorian kids

Q & A

What was the trip like?



"The trip was absolutely incredible. It was such a wonderful experience, in terms of both the physical exertion and the amazing opportunity to become both a more skilled team member and a more self-reliant individual. I could go on all day, I loved the trip so much!."

Jenny Allison

Vive Le France

Je t'aime, France

Students in April 2011 went to France for a week, experiencing the French culture through museums, food, and communication. This wonderful experience happens every other year for students at Sharon High. Another opportunity that arises for students is the French exchange. In October 2011 ten students and two teachers from a high school in France, 'Insitut du Sacre Coeur', stay with students at Sharon High School for two weeks, then in March 2012 ten students from our school and Ms. Turner travel to France for two weeks.

Q & A

What was your most memorable moment on the France trip last April?

"We were singing the general out of the windows of the hotel room. It was so funny! We had people clapping for us!"

"One's destination is never a place, but a new way of seeing things." - Gabi Ross

From March to May, over the course of 7 weeks, 10 students from our high school were given the opportunity to experience how it feels to be a student at Xi'an Gao Xin Tang Nan Secondary School. They begun their journey by sight-seeing Bejing where they toured the Great Wall, Tiananmen Square, and Temple of Heaven. Following Bejing they spend 6 weeks in shoes of an everyday Chinese student in Xi'an. There they went to school, saw the Terracotta Warriors, and were the exposed to the culture and value of family. The exchange students spent their last week touring the modernized city of Shanghai. The friendships and experiences from this trip will be remembered forever.

Q & A

What do you feel was the most important thing you learned from this experience?

"It wasn't just the language that I got better at. But, my eyes were opened to the fact that even though we lived on opposite sides of the world; we had a lot in common."

You don't know cold... ...until you've been to QUÉBEC

January 13, 2012 to January 16, 2012

C'est malade! In January 2012, twenty-one SHS seniors journeyed to Québec City for four days of French immersion activities. The first evening was spent in Huron Village, where the students ate a traditional meal, toured the village, and saw a performance of traditional dance of the people of the First Nations (who we would call Native Americans). Saturday morning was spent snow shoeing before a tour of Old Québec. Saturday afternoon they went to L'Hôtel de Glace, one of the only Ice Hotels in the world. That evening, students enjoyed traditional 17th century Québécoise food and dance at a sugar shack followed by dog sledding and an opportunity to make their own maple butter. Sunday the students participated in an improv game show before visiting la Basilique St-Anne-de-Beaupré (St. Anne's Basilica). On their last night in Québec, they went to Village Vacances Valcartier, a winter sports resort with a huge tubing complex. They completed their trip on Sunday morning with a scavenger hunt at a grocery store and a visit to Les Galeries de la Capitale, a shopping mall. In the words of David Goldstein, "this trip was sweet. I'm not just saying that. Every moment was jam packed with stuff." Vive le québécoise!

Q & A

What was your favorite part of the trip and should SHS make this trip available to students again?

I'd say my favorite part was tubing, because even though it was like negative four degrees out, I had a great time screaming my lungs out as I flew down the mountain with my friends and Mlle. Turner. And I would DEFINITELY do the trip again. I just hope next time it isn't as cold! Even our bus couldn't withstand the cold Canadian weather; it kept breaking down which was really the only downside to the trip.

Thoroughly Modern Millie

Thoroughly Modern Millie tells the story of a small-town girl, Millie Dillmount, who comes to New York City to marry for money instead of love. Liam Murphy is in disbelief that pushing the "Black Button" will grant him 1 million dollars, but will take someone's life in return.

The Black Button

Written and Directed by: Tony Simonetti & Mark Glasman

"My favorite part of the process was definitely getting to know the cast and adapting my leading style to each cast member. Because "Black Button" had such a small cast (6 people), there was a very intimate atmosphere all the time. As we got closer, I could relate to them more, and by the end of the play, they wanted to do well not just for themselves, but even to make each other and me happy.

The most memorable experience of the play, as is the case with most plays, was opening night. Everyone was excited and ready to do the best performance they'd ever done. We all knew it was almost over, so there was a lot of reminiscence and love within the cast- I'll never forget the look on everyone's faces when our show ended and everyone nailed their performances! And at the end of the night, we all went to TGI Fridays to celebrate. Definitely a night to remember!

Directing a play or directing a film, the most important thing I've learned is that being a leader of any cause is all about recognizing what others ARE capable of, rather than dwelling on what they aren't, and inspiring them to shine in the areas in which they can. Synergy is key to any worthy cause because everyone has ideas and talents to contribute." -Tony Simonetti

"My favorite part about directing was being able to create exactly what I wanted for the show and see something that I wrote become real, a being of its own onstage for everyone to see. The student-directed plays this year at Sharon High School embodied everything amazing about student-made art; hand the reigns over to talented, creative people and they will create truly great art for everyone to enjoy. Just because it's made by "kids" doesn't mean it can't be just as good, if not better, than art made by adults." -
-Ethan Thibault

"Student Directed is one of the greatest, under-rated parts of being in the Sharon High School Company. It's a chance to be involved with a production of you don't get into or try out for Festival, and a great way to showcase talents that might not be seen when in a large cast for the fall musical. You also get to know other kids from different grades more personally because you're working with them so closely. I have loved being in the Student Directeds since freshman year and really enjoyed directing my senior year." -Laurel Galford

DRAMA FESTIVAL

The Cripple of Inishmaan

Above: Doctor McSharry, played by Ben Hirsh, checks injured Cripple Billy's chest with a stethoscope after being attacked by an angry Babbybobby, furious that Billy lied to him about being diagnosed with tuberculosis. In a moment of unfortunate irony, Billy soon learns that he does, indeed, have tuberculosis.

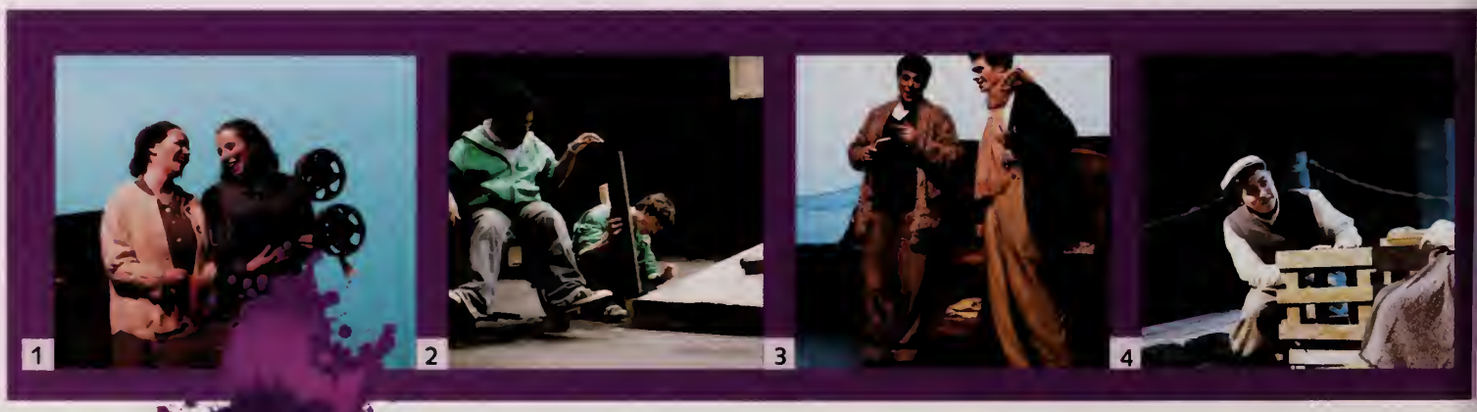
Right: Romance sizzles in the air as Helen McCormick, played by Melanie Parziale, finally kisses Cripple Billy, played by Matt Goldstein. Cripple Billy's obvious crush on Helen is finally satisfied when Helen briefly rejects her teasing nature to accept Billy's proposition to go for a walk together to look at cows. Helen's rare act of affection comes at a valuable moment; it saves Cripple Billy from committing suicide after realizing the truth about the death of his parents, who drowned themselves after Billy's birth.

For this year's Massachusetts Educational Theater Guild's High School Festival, the Sharon High School Theatre Company (SHSTC) put on an exquisite rendition of The Cripple of Inishmaan, a humorous and equally morbid play written by playwright Martin McDonagh. Set on the Aran Islands, which are located off the west coast of Ireland, the play details the goings-on of the townspeople of the impoverished town of Inishmaan in 1934 as they prepare for the arrival of a Hollywood producer who plans to film a documentary about life on the islands.

Despite having to cut a nearly two-and-half-hour play down to a measly forty minutes in order to satisfy the requirements of the Festival, the play was nonetheless seamless and professional. Most impressive was the cast's dedication to learning the difficult Irish accent characteristic of the Aran Islands and to making the accent understandable without diluting it, a feat that they unanimously agreed required many hours of dialect tapes and "lots of YouTube."

As usual, Sharon's excellent theater company was able to make it to the semi-final round of Festival, competing against six other schools and picking up thirty-six of the possible forty-five awards that day. Unfortunately, Sharon did not move on to the next round. However, given the warm and enthusiastic response of the school and the community, it is without a doubt that their hard work, dedication, and unrivaled talent were recognized.

Right: Cripple Billy shares a fabricated letter he wrote that diagnoses him with tuberculosis with Babbybobby Bennet, the town's boatman. Because Babbybobby's wife wife died of tuberculosis, Cripple Billy hopes to use the letter to inspire in him enough sympathy to chart him to the main island to audition for the film.



Left: Worried about her health, Doctor McSharry urges Mammy O'Dougal, played by Julia Getz, to stop drinking alcohol. However, Mammy's son Johnnypateenmike exclaims that she has been drinking for years without any problems, so Mammy gleefully continues drinking.

Left: Frustrated over Cripple Billy's desire to audition for a role in the upcoming Hollywood-directed movie, Helen, who was vying for the role too, confronts Billy in aunts' shop.

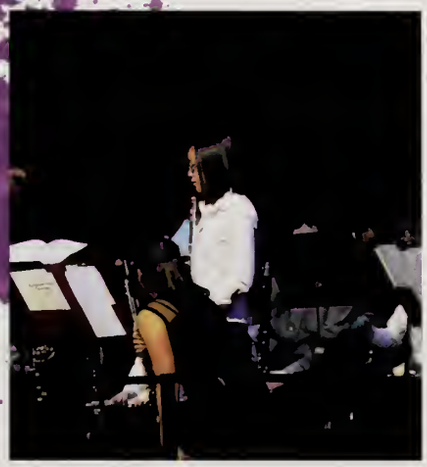
THE SHS BAND...

The Sharon High School band is made up of extremely talented and dedicated individuals. The band usually meets three times a week, but for some members it can be as many as four or five times a week. The band has many concerts both in and out of school, sometimes even in the streets or on the bleachers.

The pictures featured are from one of the many concerts that the band participated in this year.

Hear from some of our band's members:



Elaina Cho, a senior at Sharon High School, reminisces about her experience in band throughout the years:"Remember the...Hour of band way back when? Our great voices in Sang sang oo gaka tang? Pep Band Tunes at football games? Sleigh Ride? Iron Man? Dance Fever? Band Uniforms? Counseling on Aging Concerts with free food? Flashmobing through hallways? And I'll never forget Mr. McGee and his extra "short" explanations after each piece"

"Being a member of the band, jazz band, and wind ensemble was a nice way to spend four years of high school. I have made many good friends through band; I will truly miss you all next year!" says Melissa Jay, also a senior band member.

MUSIC IS WHAT WE BREATHE!

Concert Chorus/choir is not limited to the top vocal students – it is open to all vocal students. Members of the Chorus - led by Ms. Frye - have a passion for music, singing, and performing on stage in several concerts together before friends, family, students and teachers. With an open mind, students learn wide-ranging genres of music from various periods throughout history, hoping to improve vocal and listening skills as well as develop an appreciation for singing alongside many fellow students who are eager to learn. Though Chorus only meets every Monday, Wednesday, and Friday during Eagle Block, the rehearsals must be taken seriously in order for the choir to be productive as a whole. Students dedicate much time and effort to showcase their best performance in order to both entertain and reach out to the audience.

THINK BIG, NOTHING IS IMPOSSIBLE!

There are more than likely a number of people who dislike art or don't think much of it, and for various reasons. One might think one does not possess any special talents in the arts, or one might just not be interested in art at all. In truth, the common saying that art is not for everybody is false; anyone can and should do some form of art (and often, at that). According to some fairly recent brain research, it is recommended for education systems to do more creative problem solving, as it is important to one's future (e.g. in designing new technologies, etc.). In short, art is underrated, as some people do not see its importance, but in reality, it plays an essential role in our everyday lives. Here at Sharon High, various classes focusing on various forms of art are offered to students, from Intro to Art to Photography to Animation. Students are able to explore the world of art and expand their imaginations by doing so. We have much to thank the visual art teachers, Ms. Buck, Ms. Lazzaro, Ms. Renke, and Ms. Roberto, for, as they have assisted in the creative thinking and learning processes of their students.

SKATANA

ABOUT SKATANA

Skatana is among the many bands that has formed outside of school. The band is widely respected by the students at SHS and has played at a number of venues including the Canton Sports Pub and the SHS Battle of the Bands. Their name originates from the type of music the members play, Ska, combined with Sam Kutana, thus forming Skatana. Ska is rock music combined with horns and reggae elements. Having formed almost a year ago, Skatana is planning on releasing their own album and practices hard every weekend for 3-4 hours at Pascal's house. The band plays both covers and writes original songs, and the members are very proud of what they have accomplished this past year.

ADL peer leaders

The ADL(Anti-Defimation League) peer leaders are a group of students who want to make a difference in our school by educating the student body on topics such as bullying, cliques, and stereotypes. Every year the group focuses on a theme that they want the school to be aware of, this year's theme is "you can't shake a hand with a clenched fist." They do an art project that depicts this topic . Every spring, they attend a conference with the ADL peer leaders of many other schools to come together and discuss what they can do and have been doing in their own school communities. .

Senior Jonelle Allen takes a picture with the project the peer leaders created together illustrating this year's theme, "you can't shake a hand with a clenched fist."

"ADL Peer Leaders is basically just a group of kids that want to make a difference in their school by educating kids about the different types of stereotypes or bullying or cliques"
-Caitlin Cosman

METCO

"The Metco Program is a grant program funded by the Commonwealth of Massachusetts. It is a voluntary program intended to expand educational opportunities, increase diversity, and reduce racial isolation, by permitting students in certain cities to attend public schools in other communities that have agreed to participate." Massachusetts Department of Education

Every year Sharon High gets to welcome several students who live in cities throughout the state. They get up extremely early to take a long bus ride to get to Sharon each day. They add culture, richness and diversity to our community we are lucky to have them and all the contributions they give to Sharon High. They are truly an integral part of our school. The program is run by Ms. Deborah Ward who acts as the program coordinator and mentor not only to the Metco students, but also to so many other students.

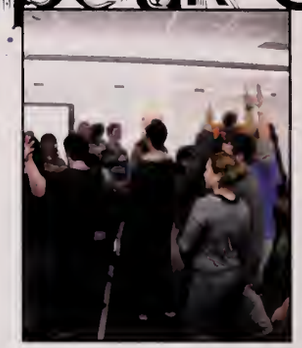
The pictures are of students meeting with Dr. Raymond Samuel, a Sharon Resident and Assistant Dean and Associate Professor at Hampton University, VA.

This year's Metco students include:

Akiv Carries, Kelson John, Lady Mendez, Marlisha Syverain, Earl Dessesaure, Tyler Henry, Brittney High, Weffly St. Fleruose, Daylon Williams-Thomas, Stevie Wilson-Knight, Jameel Emmanuel, Peter Rodriguez, Sydney Stephens and Arianna Williams

Teen Speak Out

Students attending Teen Speak Out dance, talk, and have fun with each other.

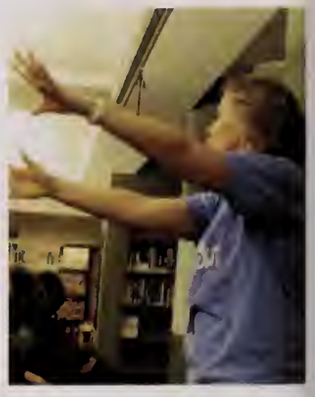


Teen Speak Out is an event held at Sharon Hi School multiple times a year. It is a day that studer who are chosen randomly spend together in the libra doing various activities and games to get to know ea other as well as discuss events they've experienced school and there view on different types relationships and how those relationships come to in our lives. Usually on this day, students really op up to one another about themselves and end leaving at the end of the day with tons of ne knowledge and with new frien

Teen Speak Out participants relax and talk during the amazing, unforgettable day.

" 'Don't walk out that door and forget what you learned here today' and everyone clapped because that is what Teen Speak Out is really about. We're supposed to use what we learned during that day to make Sharon a better place. Even if Sharon isn't this troubled town and everyone gets bullied, these things that we learned and talked about will be relevant all throughout life."
-Caitlin Cosman

Facilitators have a great time and showing great excitement for the activities and discussion topics of the day.



The entire group poses for a picture to remember their amazing day together.

Planning Boards

Students are welcomed back to school at Homecoming, which also serves to get them pumped up for the upcoming school year.

Planning Boards organize several events throughout the school year. They are responsible for collecting class dues within their respective grades and work hard to make the students' lives at Sharon High as fun and spirited as possible.

Some Events planned by the Planning Boards:

Class of 2014 Planning Board: Sophomore Semi.
Class of 2013 Planning Board: Mr. SHS, Junior Prom.
Class of 2012 Planning Board: Senior Spirit Week, Senior Prom, Senior Week.

Planning Board members participate in a Garage Sale to raise money for future events.

Samantha Kim and Vimbai Moyo discuss one of the many senior events at the weekly planning board meeting.

The crowd is getting warmed up at the Fall Sports Pep Rally, one of the many events planned by the Student Council.

Have you ever wondered who puts in the time and effort into making the school environment fun and exciting? StuCo does, of course! Student Council, also known as StuCo, is involved in the student body's everyday lives. They serve to listen to other students' opinions and suggestions and take them into deep consideration when planning future school-wide events for everyone's benefit: blood drives, holiday specials, spirit days, community service projects and more!

COURT PROCEEDINGS
Jan. 16th
Inside, the atmosphere is trembling with tension. Most of the students are staring at the center of the U-shape desk formation, pinned to their seats by the pressure in the air. The subjects of their concentration is in her usual formal attire, tall and striking in 3-inch heels. She stand at the front of the room. Vineeta Nangia rustles some papers and walks formidably around a figure that, though visibly shaken, stands his ground. The young man being interrogated is Ibrahm Gardner, an intelligent and amiable junior who is in the role of witness at this trial. She asks him a question. The weight of the silence is on all of their shoulders now. A sophomore in the corner dares to cough. Half-scripted and half-improvised, Gardner

Despite Attorney-client privilege, a member of yearbook staff procured the team's standings was a question of liability- of whether a specific teacher was negligent in his care of a student who was bullied.

We are sure that they did Sharon High justice.

Power Club

SHS GOES GREEN!

The Power Club is a club devoted to the environment. Every week the members meet and help to gather up all the recycled trash in the building and sort it for recycling. One of their biggest contributions for the year was their composting program, which involved the whole school. They set up compost bins in the cafeteria where students were urged to place anything compostable. The program went really well this year, and the students led by Dr. Hoffman, hope to continue on with the program in future years an continue to increase the amount of compost our school creates.

The members of the power club include:
Lucus Berchuck, Ilana Zeleny, Bar Stern
Lia Klein, Mason Krolick, Katie Krolick
Dylan Best, Shalini Sakhamuri, Samantha Katz,
Gabby Crosby, Jordan Karten

Mission Statement
The Sharon Public Schools, in partnership with the community, has at its mission the responsibility to prepare students to live in a rapidly changing society.

Global Competence is a program that Sharon High students can choose to participate in. When they graduate they will have earned a Certificate of Global Competence. In order to achieve this, students must meet three of the five requirements which include foreign travel, a minimum academic GPA, Global Service, a Global Research Project and a portfoli. It should take students about a year to earn the certificate. The purpose of this program is to get students ready for the global world of the 21st Century.

The following students participated this year:
Benn Bluestein
Shreya Bhatia
Minerva Teli
Max Glanz
Matt Davidson
Matthew Breitner
Manal Cheema

Student Mentors

We all know that the transition from middle school to high school is not an easy one. A group of SHS student volunteers from all four grades have come together to assist the eight grade students at SMS in their big move to the high school. The club meets every Thursday in the library under the leadership of Senior Helen Gong and staff adviser Ms. Collins. Each mentor trip takes place in the morning before school. The efforts and dedication of these students makes a great difference to those at SMS.

In all honesty, what's more fun than a casual game of Ping Pong after a stressful Tuesday at SHS? The members of the Dr. Cho's Ping Pong Club would answer: nothing. The club meets each Tuesday in the auditorium foyer for quick matches, a leisurely game, or a doubles pick up round. All are always welcome!

As a regular Ping Pong club attendee, Senior Gregory Yee can often be found in the auditorium foyer after school every Tuesday.

iGEM, which stands for International Genetically Engineered Machine, is a new club at Sharon High School and is led by advisers Mr. Dixon and Mr. Snow. Originally a club intended solely for undergraduate university students , iGEM has begun to pop up at the high school level in order to introduce high school students to the field of synthetic biology. Synthetic biology is a burgeoning area of study that blends together science and engineering to create biological systems that can be used at the molecular scale. The objective of iGEM is to allow students to create simple biological systems from a registry of standardized parts and to successfully operate these systems within living cells. The Sharon High School iGEM division consists of three teams that are working on individual projects. In late June, a number of students will travel to Indiana in order to present their project and compete with other high school teams.

With their heads held high walking into every game, it's safe to say this was the best season the Sharon varsity golf team has ever had in its long running history. The team had great talent through every player and became very competitive when fighting for the top 8 spots to play in matches. Led by senior captain Joey Dalabon and Coach Thor Vanvarenwyck, the team worked hard through practices and with every match they played. They finished with an overall record of 12-2, clenching the win for the best record in their Hockomock league, winning their division, and qualifying for states for the first time in many years. The top 6 players advanced to state finals and played with some of the best high school golfers all around MA. Sharon placed 6th out of all the schools and the team was very proud. Two of the teammates, Matt Corman and Isabel Southard, were named Hockomock League All-Stars and Isabel Southard was even awarded Hockomock League MVP. The Sharon Eagles played a tremendous season and each and every player contributed through their support and dedication. With amazing young talent still improving, the team is excited to continue their great record in the following years to come.

It has been the most amazing experience being a captain this year because it really gave me an opportunity to take pride in my team. Every single girl works so hard, and it's apparent at each & every game, practice, & competition. The girls support each other both in season and out, & I am ecstatic to be a part of it. The connections we made will last a lifetime, & from now on I will always have to break out into dance whenever I hear Party Rock or Superbass. I love my Eagle girls, we are always DTS!

SHS CHEERLEADING

SHARON VARSITY
FALL 2011 SEASON

"I realized this team was going to special the first time one of the girls said, "A guy tried to tell me cheer leading wasn't a sport" and I said, "You're right it isn't." The look on his face was priceless!". Even if our team was smiling and saying sideline cheering isn't a sport, the team worked harder than ever to be the best. Five days a week, in the baseball cages, through the coldest of weather, the team was almost always DTS. We have a special bond to each other and the sport; we always stand up for each other, sometimes recruiting new members in the process. This season was one I'll never forget, and I'll miss not seeing them everyday next year. I love this team and am so thankful I was able to lead them this season.

Cross Country 2011

This year, both the girls and boys Sharon High School cross country teams finished with strong seasons. Led by captains Ben Ryter and Danny Scribner, the boys finished second in the small Hock division. Captains, Caroline Sun and Samantha Kaplan led a strong building year for the girls team. Caroline Sun helped move the girls with her fantastic sixteenth place finish in the All Class meet. Both teams hope to build off of these strong performances next year.

"The Sharon high school winter track teams just celebrated the end of a very successful season. Despite being short on numbers, the girls team had a multitude of very close meets.The boys team had their strongest record in many years. Finishing 3-1 within the league, the boy's only loss came from perennial powerhouse Oliver Ames in a close meet. This years success bodes well for the future of the Sharon track teams as the team is very young and full of potential. GYMNASTICS

The success of Sharon High School's gymnastics team is undeniable year after year, and this season was no exception. The team worked hard to maintain a perfect record making them once again, undefeated Hockomock League champions. The team smashed a school record when they scored a 145.325 against Mansfield, the highest team score in the state for the 2012 season. The team was also ranked 4th going into sectionals, the best ranking in many years.

Many of the gymnasts also qualified for state individuals. Junior Alicia Dagle qualified on bars and beam. Senior, Brian Le qualified on vault and came in 8th place. Juniors, Jessica Chabot and Samantha Kaplan, qualified in the All-Around Division with Chabot taking 8th on bars and floor and Kaplan winning the All-Around.

One thing is certain, Sharon High School can always count on the gymnastics team for great seasons, and they are only going to improve as time goes on.

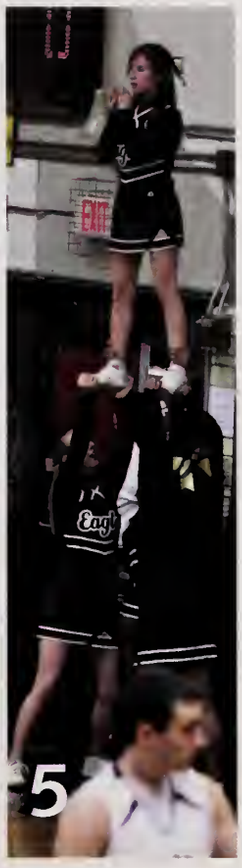
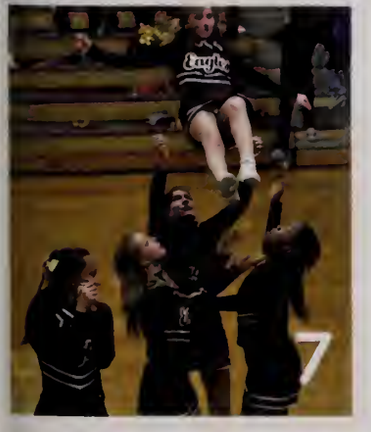
Middle Row: Johanna Lovett , Emma Friedman, Shira Porter, Brittany Jacobs, Samantha Robinson Sara Goldman and Brianna Elgert
Top Row: Emily Sandman, Patricia Barbosa, Samantha Schwartz, Claudia Stuber, Katie Armstrong, Nan Simms, Allie O'Handley and Nicky Branson.

4. Who said girls can't fly? Jackie Rivers proves that they can by defying gravity.
5. Sara Goldman is lifted up so that the crown can see her and cheer for the Eagles with her.





6. Co-captains Garcelle Germaine and Madi Bader lead the spirit of the squad on and off the court.
7. Trust us a huge part of being on the squad because when you fall down you depend on your teammates to catch you.

"Being on the SHS Cheer Team is being part of an amazing dedicated squad of girls cheering on fellow classmates while helping build school spirit. It's more than just a team, it's like a second family.

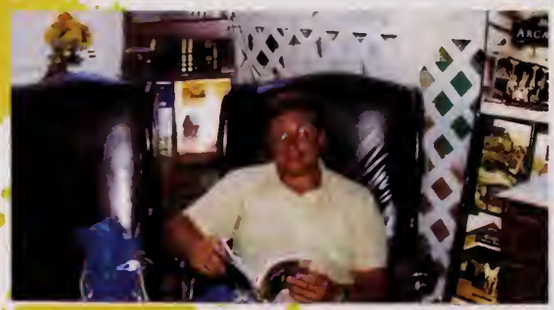
Honoring a Legend– SHS Says Goodbye to Mr. Sondheim

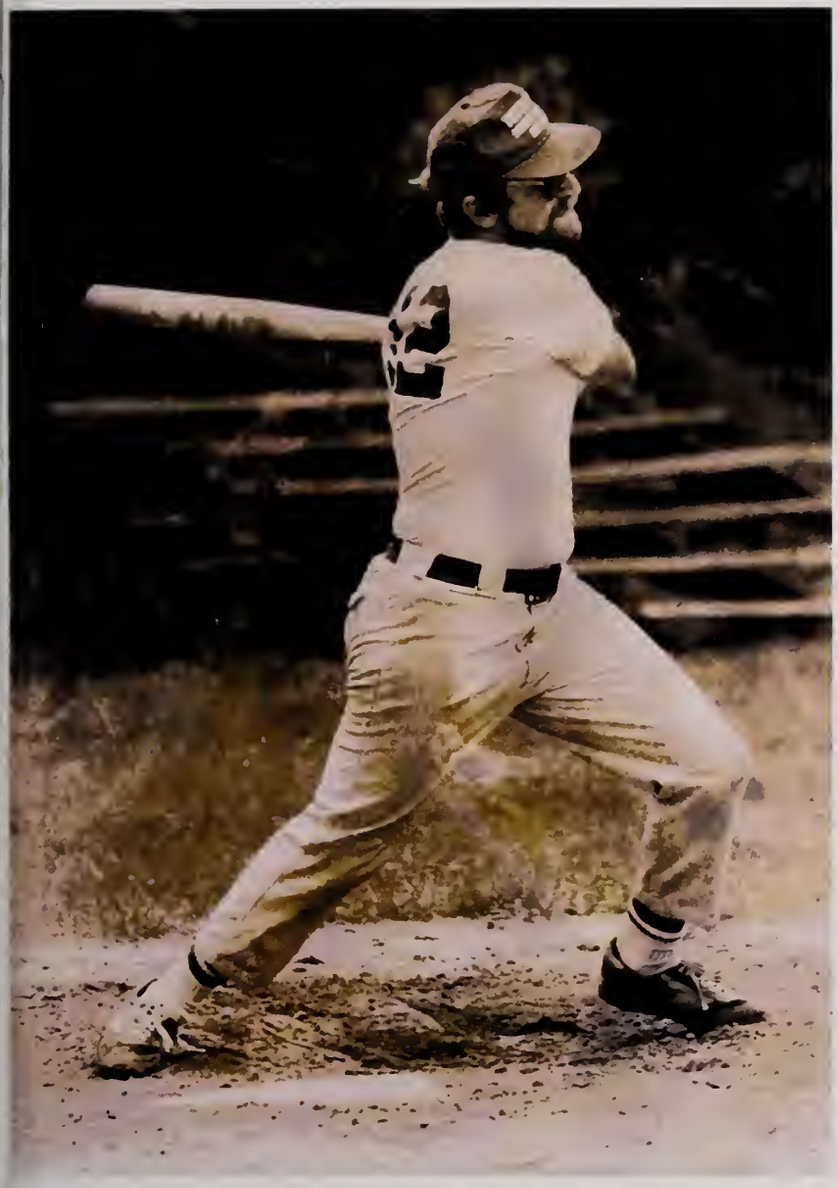
At the close of the 2011-2012 school year, the Sharon High School community will say goodbye to Mr. Sondheim, a longstanding member of the administration. For the last eleven years Mr. Sondheim has served as the Athletic Director. Before assuming his position as AD, Mr. Sondheim was the coach of the swim team for five and a half years.

During his time as AD, Mr. Sondheim worked tirelessly to improve the experience of all student-athletes at Sharon High School. His dedication to the athletic department was invaluable in helping the Eagles reach new heights. He oversaw the expansion of the high school sports programs to provide more opportunities for student-athletes at both the varsity and club level; He instituted the Birds of a Feather Award to recognize student-athletes and a faculty member who had a strong influence on their development; and he founded the Ernie Club, a highly successful sponsorship program for SHS athletics.

He will be remembered for his hard work, his good spirit, and his warm sense of humor. The SHS community wishes Mr. Sondheim well in his future endeavors—have fun in your retirement!



Layout and Text by: Samantha Kim



"He cares about everyone. He did amazing work at a job that, in my mind, is the hardest job in the public school system."

— Joel Peckham, Varsity Baseball Coach

"During Bob Sondheim's time as AD, he shouldered many a burden, both professional and personal, celebrated many a success, and did it all with grace. I have always found him to be a solid supporter of female athletics, both its coaches and its players. That support came in a variety of ways: finding funding for teams; encouraging girls to sign up for teams; setting schedules; attending games; appearing at banquets; and meeting with players, parents, and coaches - all done with the goal of providing a good and fair experience for all. His presence has had a positive effect on SHS and he will be missed."

— Peg Arguimbau, Varsity Lacrosse and Field Hockey Coach

A WORD FROM THE EDITORS...

It has been a pleasure to be a part of the yearbook staff for my last two years of high school. Being an editor this year has been an amazing way to contribute to something that my senior class will always have to look back on, and I am grateful to have had the experience. I wish the best to the staff in the future.

-Julie Fishman

Having the chance to be an editor-in-chief for the yearbook this year has been the highlight of my senior year. I've made some good friends on staff and I know we are leaving next years yearbook in very capable hands. Best of luck to all of you and have fun next year!

- Caitlin Murchie

I have had so much fun being an editor for the yearbook this year. Being able to capture memories that everyone will look back on years from now is an amazing experience. Thank you so to everyone that helped make this yearbook possible and a special thanks to Ms. Schreiber for all her work! Best wishes to everyone and hope you all enjoy the yearbook!

-Angela Zhang

"Being an editor this year has truly been a privilege. It has been so exciting to see the book come together! Thanks so much to everyone who helped capture these memories. Good luck, Seniors '12!

-Sophie Craig

Being on the yearbook staff for the past two years has been a great experience for me! I am happy that we have been able to produce yearbooks that will be a reminder of exactly who we were in high school! Also, thank you to the rest of the staff and Ms. Schreiber for being such a great adviser!

-Arielle Bobek

Being an Editor-in-Chief is not just about producing a beautiful piece. It is about building connections between the present and the past. In cliché terms, a picture is worth a thousand words. I hope, that when we each look through the 2011-2012 Marsengold, we each relive the memories of this amazing year, laugh at the goofy photos, and smile as we remember who we once were. I thank each of you who helped make this work of art and I wish you all the best.

Baseball 2012

It has been a great season for the SHS baseball team, the highlight being the team's win against Oliver Ames. Marius Bernotas, a senior and one of the team's four captains, says, "Beating Oliver Ames for the first time in years, in extra innings, is an experience I'll remember for the rest of my life." Jake Fishman, a junior, has really enjoyed his transition from team member to captain this year. He explains, "This year was completely different for me as a player. In all my previous years I had been the one to look up to the older guys and watch them lead the team but this year it was my turn."

Captains Mitchell Goldenberg and Tyler Schuster also boast about the team, "This year's team has been a blast to be a part of. This team is great offensively and defensively. It has been a pleasure to be captain along with Tyler, Marius, and Jake" Mitchell Goldenberg. "Playing baseball this year and being able to be captain has been an awesome experience and the team has been playing well this year" Tyler Schuster.

Spring Girls Lacrosse: 2011-2012

The girls have had some tough competition this year but according to captain Samantha Kim "the team has a positive energy that definitely helps us get through some of the loses". The girls had no designated goalie this year but Sheila Riley and Cecily Chase stepped up to the challenge and filled the spot. Captain Sheila Riley found this to be a great year to be captain: "It was a great year to be one of the captains on the team; the girls were all incredibly motivated and passionate about the sport! I could not have asked for a better team!" and it seems that co-captain Samantha Kim feels the same way: "For me what sets this year apart from all the rest, is the camaraderie amongst all of the girls. Everyone gets along really well and we get out there and just have fun every day at practice".

The team also participated in some fund-raising during their season. Something cool they did was called "flocking for fund-raising": "Who doesn't love sneaking around people's yards at 10:30 at night armed with a huge flock of plastic flamingos? It's been really well received by the community, the girls had a lot of fun doing it, and we've raised a lot of money!" ~Samantha Kim

It sounds like the girls had a great time this year and good luck to the captains of next years team!

Despite the record, the Boy Lacrosse team were able to be a building block for future generations. Led by co-captains senior Jake Rotman and junior Josh Rosenblum, the team persevered through a tough season. Coach Patrick Kelley comments, "We did a lot of work with a young team looking forward to build future success".

SAILING

BEYOND THE HORIZON

The sailing team is a competitive team that practices in the fall and races in the spring. Varsity team members get to know each other especially well during their long drives to sailing competitions in Barnstable, Rhode Island, Winchester, and Framingham. Occasionally on the weekends, the team will drive to New Hampshire or even Maine. The sailing team also bonds while raising money to buy equipment for themselves.

"Rewarding"

Dream Far High School marathon trains high school students to run full and half marathons. The program was lead by faculty members Michael Quinlin, Sharon Humphrey and James Acone. Teachers and students alike began a rigorous training program in September where they ran three days during the week and every Saturday. All the training culminated in the Cox Providence Marathon in May where they ran an astounding 26.2 miles. As exhausted as they were, the excitement and pride at the end of the race could not be contained, especially considering that less than 1% of the US population will ever complete this amazing feat.

GIRL'S TENNIS

Led by Tri-Captains Emily Hu, Alannah Waisel, and Mellisa Yuan, and Coach Abram and Micheroni, the Sharon Girls Tennis were able to finish the year off with a 12-4 score in the regular season, advancing to states ranked in the 9th seat. The girl's were able to advance through the first round of states, but unfortunately lost to a very strong team in the second round. With every game the girl's tennis team went to, every player on the team played a big role. Whether they were playing in the varsity matches or sitting on the sidelines cheering, the team was able to build a bond that lasted throughout the season and brought the players closer together. The team was able to have a very successful season and everyone put up a great fight at every match. With each player improving on the team, there is a bright future ahead as the Sharon girl's tennis team looks forwards to more success.

Sophomore Semi

One of the largest, most important and most onerous tasks the Class of 2014 Planning Board was faced with in the 2011-2012 school year was planning and organizing the much anticipated Sophomore Semi. A one-day event filled with refections, blaring music, and dresses and suits along with dancing, socializing, and posing for cameras made for an unforgettable night.

Below: Photo op! Sophomore girls and boys mingle and strike a pose for the camera. Judging by everyone's expressions, the party is long from over.

The class of 2013's junior prom was held at Blue Hills Country Club in Canton, MA. It began at 7pm with a nice dinner and ended at around 11 pm. The buses picked up the students at 6:30pm from Sharon High School and later brought them back when everyone went their separate ways to do their own activities for the night. It took a little while for everyone to get warmed up but then all the students were dancing to the great DJ. At the end of the night, everyone loaded the buses with smiles on their faces.

A Perfect Night

The weather was beautiful on May 31, 2012. The girls all looked stunning in their dresses and the boys looked handsome in their tuxes. The senior class celebrated the end of their high school years with a night they will always remember. Students arrived by bus, car and limos to the beautiful Indian Pond Country Club in Kingston, MA. It was a bit of a ride, but no one minded because half the fun was getting there. Students enjoyed a delicious dinner, relaxed on the deck outside and of course danced the night away!

GRADUATION

IS THERE A FORMULA FOR A PERFECT LIFE?

Sunday, June 5, 2012 turned out to be a nice day, despite the rain the day before. It was a bit windy and the graduates had to hold onto their caps, but the excitement and pride could not be mistaken as the seniors, families, friends and faculty gathered on the football field for the Sharon High School Commencement. Samantha Hah-Yun Kim, Class President opened with her inspiring speech about the spirit and closeness of the class of 2012, followed by the Valedictorian Address given by Thomas George Reid. Faculty speakers included Dr. jose Libano, Ms. Laura Salomons, Mr. Timonthy Farmer and the faculty address given by Robert Sondheim.

Petr Rusu Favazza addressed the class with his formula for a perfect life. In the end it boiled down to one main value : LOVE.

Congratulations to the class of
